These have been so helpful for my Firsties during Morning Work, Do-Nows, Fast Finishers, Homework, and I've left them for substitutes. As we approach end-of-year testing, they are great for reinforcing and refreshing concepts.

I have tried to "double up" on skills on some of these pages. For example, after solving problems, kids are then asked to color in the even numbers, make tally marks, write all of the double facts they know on the back of the paper, etc.
